

FÁTIMA DE JUAN

Fátima de Juan (Palma de Mallorca, 1984) is an artist based in Mallorca. Her first encounter with painting emerged through graffiti, working under the alias Xena during her teenage years. She later studied Illustration at the School of Arts and Crafts in Palma and Graphic Design in Madrid.

The female figure occupies a central place in her practice: powerful, broad-limbed and exuberant, embodying a tension between tenderness, sensuality and raw strength. Her pictorial universe brings together nature, fantasy, eroticism and the tropical imaginary, where vivid colour palettes and velvety surfaces create scenes that oscillate between the dreamlike and the familiar. Fruits, vessels, stones and swords coexist with references drawn from street culture, contemporary aesthetics and speculative futures, composing a visual language of fertile contradictions and emotionally charged self-representation.

Recent solo exhibitions include Pretty Thug at L21 Palma, Mallorca (2022) and Don't Disturb Me, I'm Blooming at L21 Barcelona (2023). Selected group exhibitions include Incarnation at Glass Rice, San Francisco (2024); Brilliant New Faces at Allouche Gallery, Los Angeles (2023); Stronger Than Language at Galerie Romero Paprocki, Paris (2022); Food Obsession at Urvanity Projects and Gärna Art Gallery, Madrid (2022); PED TALKS at 42 Art Space, Hong Kong (2022); Exodus at K11 Musea and Gallery Ascend, Hong Kong (2022); and Oh Baby! at Breach, Miami (2021). In 2024, her work was also featured in group exhibitions at Allouche Gallery, New York; Albert Contemporary, Denmark; and LA BIBI Gallery, Palma de Mallorca, among others.
